

- 1 Objects closer to us appear to move farther

Parallax and Distances to Stars

- 2 Can use this idea to measure distances

Background stars change when viewed from different angles

Half this angle = parallax

$$\text{Distance} = 1 / \text{parallax}$$

Parallax measured in arcseconds

Distance measured in parsecs

$$1 \text{ parsec} = 3.26 \text{ light years}$$